Municipal Elections Monday Next

The municipal elections for councillors will be held on Monday next. There are 4 councillors to be elected. The nominations on Monday last brought out six candidates and all are good men. The men who are running for office are Parker R. Reed, Jim Ruby, Geo. Wrigglesworth, Harry Reiber, J. H. Hehn and F. T. Moyle. Of the above, four have already had experience on the council, Reed, Ruby, Wrigglesworth and Moyle. Mayor J. M. Reed still has another year to fill his position.

The following gentlemen were all elected to the school board by acclamation: N. F. Clarke, Dr. J. L. Clarke, M. B. Clemens.

The poll will be held at the town secretary's office and A. Brusco, town clerk, will be returning officer. The poll opening at 8 o'clock a.m., and closing at 7 p.m.

G. W. V. A.

A meeting of the Didsbury branch was held in the club rooms, Leuzler block, on Monday, Dec. 1.

The following officers were elected: Pres., W. P. Martin; Vice Pres., Alf. Weber; 2nd Vice Pres., C. S. Mortimer; Executive Committee, F. Kaufman, H. B. Stitt and R. Simpson.

Dr. G. M. Reed, the first president of the Didsbury branch, regretted that owing to pressure of work he would not be in a position to continue in the office of president, but he will still remain an active member of the association.

W. P. Martin, the newly elected president, has had considerable experience in the work of the Association, having previous to his coming to Didsbury, been president of the Camrose branch. He is always to be found at the Rosebud Hotel, and will be pleased to meet any of the returned soldiers resident in Didsbury and District.

It is intended to hold a series of entertainments during the winter months, consisting of dances, whist drives, smokers and any other suitable forms of entertainment which may be suggested from time to time. The first dance and whist drive will be held on Friday, Dec. 12, in the new opera house, and it is hoped that the citizens of Didsbury and district, including of course all the returned men, will do their level best to give this series of entertainments a good start off, and continue their support throughout the winter.

Returned soldiers desirous of joining the Association should apply to any of the above named officers, or to the secretary, W. A. Austin.

Among the items on the program were several good speeches by Winnie Moyle, Myra Herber, Ernest Clarke and Aylmer Liesemer. These speeches dealt with topics truly Canadian and were very interesting and instructive. An essay, read by Guy Murdoch, was extremely good, as also were the piano solos by Margaret Sexsmith and Arnold Liesemer. A recitation by Florence Morrison and a reading by Lois Clemens were very well given. "In Flanders Fields," by Col. McRae, that song so dear to the hearts of Canadians, was delightfully sung by Mrs. P. R. Reed. After the critic's report by Miss Lantz, the meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem.

The Need For National Economy

With the successful flotation of the Victory Loan 1919,—the enormous sum of $673,200,000 having been subscribed,—the people of Canada have made provision for their great financial indebtedness occasioned by the war. When the Great War broke out with such startling suddenness in 1914, Canada pledged its last man and last dollar, if necessary, to uphold the cause of justice and liberty and to secure the triumph of those principles in which they believed, and which they regarded as alone making life worth living.

The Canadian people have kept faith. Their soldiers bore the brunt of battle right up to the last minute of the fighting, the Canadian Corps constituting the storm troops, the spearhead of the great allied advance from Amiens and on through Cambrai and Mons to victory. Those who remained at home served by work, self-denial and saving, and they have poured out their money in large amounts and small in order to enable the government to pay the country's bills and liquidate the indebtedness it had contracted. Canada still owes the money, but it owes it to its own people who have loaned it to their country.

Canadians have done well and have no reason to belittle their own efforts or to be ashamed of the results achieved by them. They have done all, and more, than was asked of them, even by their own government. Many reasons might have been advanced why the people of the Dominion should hesitate, but they cast it all aside in the broad national interest. The Victory Loan 1919 was a vote of confidence, not in any government or administration, but in Canada,—a demonstration by the people of Canada of a supreme confidence in themselves and their Dominion.

Now that the means have been provided for a "cleaning up" of the financial slate, and the restoration of the country to a more normal basis, it becomes the imperative duty of the Federal Government to institute the strictest economy in all national administration, and by the introduction of reforms, place Canada on the highway to marked future development and increased prosperity, happiness and contentment for all its people.

There is nothing to be gained in seeking to disguise the fact that there has been gross extravagance at Ottawa during the past five years. No doubt some of this was inevitable during the war, and Canada was not the only country to make such mistakes. But it cannot go on. It must be checked forthwith, and a return to financial sanity in Federal affairs established. Canada's expenditure at present far exceeds the revenue. This condition cannot be tolerated much longer. The two must be made to balance. This can only be done in one of two ways, or rather by a combination of both.

First and foremost, our national expenditures must be reduced to the lowest possible point consistent with efficient administration. There is room for the cutting off of millions of expenditure, the stoppage of leaks, and the careful husbanding of the country's finances. If this cannot be carried to the point where the expenditure is reduced to present income, then the income of the country must be increased. This, of course, means an increase of taxation, and this the people must bear.

The second duty of the Federal Government, therefore, is to waste no more time in evolving a scientific scheme for raising the revenues required to cover our national expenditures. This will involve the most careful consideration, in order that no injustice be done to any class or section of the country; in order that those who are best able to carry the burden shall take the heavy end of it and those least able get off more lightly; and finally, that the fiscal and taxation policies be so drafted as to promote the maximum development of the natural resources of the country by which alone can employment be provided for all the people and our national wealth and prosperity be increased.

Our present haphazard system of Federal financing must be scrapped, existing injustices and inequalities in taxation removed, and a general readjustment and re-classification brought about, and this must be done without further delay if disaster is to be avoided and the confidence of the people not seriously undermined, and unrest become more widespread.

The Canadian people, too, as individuals, must realize that our greatest national need today is a universal adoption of the policy of increased production coupled with greater economy in living. For a time at least luxuries must be reduced to a minimum and extravagant indulgences of all kinds stopped. Having made the world safe for democracy, we must now set ourselves to the task of making democracy safe in the world, and this can only be done by the people as a whole getting back to first principles in conduct, in living, and in productive work.

Sleeplessness.—Sleep is the great restorer and to be deprived of it is a vital loss. Whatever may be the cause of it, indigestion, nervous derangement or mental worry, try a course of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. By regulating the action of the stomach, where the trouble lies, they will restore normal conditions and healthful sleep will follow. They exert a sedative force upon the nerves and where there is unrest they bring rest.

"Jimmy," said the fond mother to her smart nine-year-old, "what became of that fruit cake I made for you as a treat yesterday? Did you eat it?"

"No, mama," answered Jimmy with a grin. "I gave it to the teacher instead."

"That was very generous of you, Jimmy," complimented his mother. "And did your teacher eat it?"

"Yes, I think so," answered Jimmy. "She wasn't at school today."

Big Lumber Deal Closed

What is probably the biggest deal in the history of the lumber business of Manitoba has just been negotiated at Winnipeg. Three hundred and twenty-four miles of timber limits in the Pas district, in Northern Manitoba, have been disposed of for $1,500,000 to C. J. and D. N. Winton, of Minneapolis, by the Finger Lumber Company. The deal, which includes a large sawmill, planing plants, and logging equipments, becomes effective at once and possession will be taken within a month. H. Finger, head of the retiring company, is a pioneer in the north country, going to the Pas in 1904, when it was Indian territory. The capacity of the company is about 190,000 feet per day.

Alleged Letter Of Admiral Von Rueter

A Truly German Excuse to Cover
Hunnish Trick

A letter alleged to have been written by Admiral von Rueter to Mr. Lloyd George, protesting against the detention of the admiral who commanded the German fleet at Scapa Flow when it was scuttled, and other officers of the sunken fleet, is published in the "Tagliche Rundschau." Regarding the scuttling of the warships, Admiral von Rueter is quoted as saying:

"I was obliged to assume that war had again broken out, from the announcement in the British press regarding the rejection of the German counter-proposals to the Peace Treaty. Even if my idea that war had again broken out subsequently proved erroneous, nevertheless I acted in the conviction that it was war, and I and my subordinates, therefore, cannot be treated except in accordance with the usual customs of war."

To Increase Egg Production.

One hundred real "egg layers" on each of the 750,000 farms in Canada is the slogan adopted by a poultry club just formed in Winnipeg, Manitoba. Allowing a net profit of a dollar per hen, this would mean an annual revenue of $75,000,000. An elaborate campaign to further this project will be waged.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Skimmed Milk Wasted

Two hundred thousand pounds of skimmed milk are being wasted yearly in one dairy alone, according to the statement by a Saskatoon milk dealer, who declared his company could secure no market for it, and was forced to dump it into the sewers. The board discussed the possibility of establishing a cheese plant in order to use waste milk.

NEW LIVE STOCK CONTRACT BEING DRAFTED UP NOW

Calgary Livestock Exchange
Secretary Lucidly Presents
Claims to Commission

The problems of live stock shippers in regard to railroad transportation were presented most adequately on Thursday before the Railway Commission by John M. Reid, secretary of the Calgary Live Stock Exchange, who went into detail to explain the various clauses which had been filed with the commission some time ago.

The board consisted of Dr. H.
G. McLean, (chairman,) Dr. J.
G. Rutherford and Hon. F. B.
Carvell and with Dr. Rutherford's knowledge of the situation both from a shipper's stand point and as a railway official the cases were much simplified when explanations were necessary. Besides the clauses originally presented, three others were added and received the attention of the board.

Many of the grievances had been presented in May in Edmonton, when there had been a meeting of railway officials with the stockmen, but as nearly all of them still exist, the conference had done little good and there was the necessity for going into some length before the board to explain the difficulties that stockmen worked under in transporting their stock as well as themselves to and from the markets.

It was felt by the Commission that a number of the grievance would be righted in the new live stock contract which is in process of being prepared, but which has been held up for some time waiting on the Interstate Commission of United States and Canada to ratify so that law will be uniform in these countries, would be passed.

In regard to the matter of providing water and feeding facilities at points where car were held, the Board asked that a list of points at which these accommodations are necessary, be prepared so that an inspector look them over and if concurred in by him, they would be provided.

It was shown that both the criminal code and the animal diseases' acts were both broke when a clean car was not provided for the shipper for his stock.

An agreement has been reached by the Board that a legal claim may be filed within 3 days but it was suggested that if the Exchange was not satisfied, that they would be advised of the final hearing of the Livestock Contract and that they might pursue their case and demand that the same time be given as in the case of grain.

The legality of charging for unloading and loading stock in transit was discussed of when it was found that in May 21, of this year the C. P. R. had filed a tariff covering this with the board. Previous to this there had been legal claim for this work.

The cost of lumber for door for box cars received attention and the amount of $1.50 showed to be absurdly inadequate as the railways were asked to nan an amount at the meeting in Winnipeg next week, to cover this, and if found to be approximate, will be ratified by the board.

After showing that a notice was hardly ever sent to the stockmen in cases where animal had been lost in transit and bee-sold by the company, it was suggested that railway companies be compelled to give publicity to the details and also that success details be provided covering period of the last four years.
The Board asked that state-

His nights were busy with his investigations, but on Sundays, as usual, he went out to Duncans'. He had developed the habit of attending morning service; he loved the music, and it was customary for Edith to sing a morning solo. Her voice, which had enraptured him when they first met, had developed wonderfully. It filled the morning air like the clear tolling of silver bells. For its sake he gladly endured the sermons, and even in the sermon he sometimes found common ground with the preacher. They could meet on any faith that postulated the brotherhood of man. But the reverend speaker touched such a subject warily. It seemed to Dave he would gladly have gone further, but was held in restraint by a sense of the orthodoxy of his congregation. Too literal an interpretation of the brotherhood of man might carry the taint of Socialism, and the congregation represented the wealth of the city. It was safer to preach learnedly on abstractions of belief.

This morning Edith had not been in her place, and the service was flat. In the afternoon she was not at her home. Mrs. Duncan explained that Edith had gone to visit a girl friend in the country; would be away for some time. Dave felt a foolish annoyance that she should have left town. She might at least have called him up. Why should she call him up? Of course not. Still, the town was very empty. He drove with Mrs. Duncan in the afternoon, and at night took a long walk by the river. He had a vague but oppressive sense of loneliness. He had not realized what part of his life these Sunday afternoons with Edith had come to be. He had no man friends; his nature held him apart from his own sex. And yet he had a strange capacity for making friends quickly, if he tried. But he didn't try. He didn't feel the need. But he felt lost without Edith.

A few days later Conward strolled in, with the inevitable cigarette. He smoked in silence until Dave completed a story.

"Good stuff you're giving us," he commented, when the article was finished. "Mighty good stuff."

"Your tip put me on to a good lead all right," Dave acknowledged. "And now The Times is chasing me hard. They had a story this morning that the ——— railway is buying a right-of-way up the river."

"Remember what I told you the other day? Stories start from nowhere. It's just like putting a match to tinder. Now we're off."

Conward smoked a few minutes in silence, but Dave could not fail to see the excitement under his calm exterior. He had, as he said, decided to "sit in" in the biggest game ever played. The intoxication of sudden wealth had already fired his blood.

He slipped a bill to Dave. "For your services in that little transaction," he explained.

Elden held the bill in his fingers, gingerly, as though it might carry infection, as in very truth it did. He realized that he stood at a turning point — that everything the future held for him might rest on his present decision. There remained in him not a little of the fine, stern honor of the ranchmen of the open range; an honor curious, sometimes terrible, in its interpretation of right and wrong, but a fine, stern honor none the less. And he instinctively felt that to accept this money would compromise him forever more. And yet—others did it. He had no doubt of that. Conward would laugh at such scruples. And Conward had more friends than he had. Everybody liked Conward. It seemed to Dave that he, only, distrusted him. But that, also, as Dave said to himself, lay in the point of view. He granted that he had no more right to impose his standard of morals upon Conward than the preacher had to impose an arbitrary belief upon him. And as he turned the bill in his fingers he noticed that it was for one hundred dollars. He had thought it was ten.

A Happy Family

BY DR. S. C. BOWERS.

A happy family is one that can sit down to the table with keen appetites and good cheer. Plenty of the out-of-doors and cleanliness, inside and outside of the body, will make for health, wealth and happiness. Your doctor will tell you that anything from a headache to the most serious illness may result from allowing food to ferment in the intestines. The first thing to do in case you feel mean, logy, dull, perhaps feverish, is to flush the liver and kidneys, drink plenty of water, and take a dose of castor oil, or, something better, made of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and long sold by almost every druggist as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. This may save you from a fit of sickness, remove the poisons from the system and give the tissues of the body a chance to build up and resist disease.

People are realizing more and more that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs I would advise any one to get Anuric (anti-uric-acid) which is to be had nowadays for fifty cents, at almost any drug store.

"I can't take that much," he exclaimed. "It isn't fair."

"Fair enough," said Conward, well pleased that Dave should be impressed by his generosity. "Fair enough," he repeated. "It's just ten per cent. of my profit."

"You mean you made a thousand dollars on that deal?"

Exactly that. And that will look like a peanut to what we are going to make later on."

"We?"

"Yes. You and me. We're going into partnership."

"But I've nothing to invest. I've only a very little saved up."

"Invest that hundred."

Dave looked at Conward sharply. Was he trifling? No; his eyes were frank and serious.

"You mean it?"

"Of course. Now, I'll put you on to something, and it's the biggest thing that has been pulled off yet. There's a section of land lying right against the city limits that is owned by a fellow over in England; remittance man who fell heir to an estate and had to go home to spend it. Well, he has been paying taxes ever since, and is tired of the 'bally rawnech'; besides, he is busy keeping his property in England reasonably well spent. I am arranging through a London office to offer him ten dollars an acre, and I'll bet he jumps at it. I've arranged for the necessary credits, but there will be some expenses for cables, etc., and you can put your hundred into that. If we pull it off—and we will pull it off—we start up in business as Conward & Elden, or Elden & Conward, whichever sounds better. Boy, there's a fortune in it."

"What do you figure it's worth?" said Dave, trying to speak easily.

"Twenty-five dollars an acre?"

"Twenty-five dollars an acre!" Conward shouted. "Dave, newspaper routine has killed your imagination, little as one would expect such a result, from some of the things the papers print. Twenty-five dollars an acre! Listen!

"The city boundaries are to be extended—probably will be by the time this deal goes through. Then it is city property. A street railway system is to be built, and we'll see that it runs through our land. We may have to 'grease' somebody, but it's a poor engineer that saves on grease. Then we'll survey that section into twenty-five foot lots—and we'll sell them at two hundred dollars each for those nearest the city down to one hundred for those farthest out—average one hundred and fifty, total nine hundred and sixty thousand dollars. Allow, say, sixty thousand for 'grease' and there is still nine hundred thousand, and that doesn't count resale commissions. Dave, it's good for a cool million. And that is just the beginning. It will give us a standing that will make anything possible."

Dave was doing rapid thinking. Suddenly he faced Conward, and their eyes met. "Conward," he said, "why do you put this up to me?"

"What d'ye mean?"

"You don't need my little hundred to put this over. Why do you let me in on it?"

Conward smiled and breathed easily. There had been a moment of tension.

"Oh, that's simple," he answered. "I figure this business is going to be too big for me, and you are the partner I need. I figure we'll travel well in double harness. I'm a good mixer—I know people—and I've got ideas. And you're sound and honorable and people trust you."

"Thanks," said Dave, dryly.

"That's right," Conward continued. "We'll be a combination hard to beat. You know the story about the brothers in the coal business?"

"No."

"Jim and Fred were coal dealers, when a revival broke out in their town, and Jim got religion. Then he tried to convert Fred; tried awful hard to get Fred to at least go to the meetings. But Fred wouldn't budge. Said it wasn't practicable. Jim argued and coaxed and prayed, but without result. At last he put it up to Fred.

"Fred," he said, 'why won't you come to our meetings?'

"Well," the brother answered, 'it was all right for you to get religion. Sort o' lends respectability to the firm. But if I get it, too, who's going to weigh the coal?'

Smelter Company Contemplates Installing A New Concentrator At Rossland, B.C.

A report from Victoria says that the Consolidated Mining and Smelter Company contemplates installing a new concentrator at Rossland, British Columbia, which will cover an area of about an acre and involve an outlay of at least $1,000,000. The buildings probably will be of steel, with steel and glass windows, granite walls and concrete floors. The capacity of the mill will be 1,500 tons a day. It will be designed to treat the ores of the Rossland camp by a process that has been tested for some months at the test concentrator at Trail, British Columbia. The question of the site of the mill is said to be unsettled, but Rossland will probably be the first choice.

Seventy Mammals Were Secured By a Single Vessel

With the arrival in Victoria recently of three whaling ships, the season has come to a close after a most successful period of fishing. The leading boat secured seventy mammals, which is considered a good record. There was an unusually large number of sperm whales caught, averaging about thirty feet each, as against the sixty feet full grown whale. Many sulphurs were also shot, running eighty-six feet. One mammal measuring forty-four feet in girth yielded 162 barrels of oil.

Explain Delay in Wheat Shipments

Winnipeg. — Following the announcement of Jas. Stewart, chairman of the Wheat Export Board, that failure to move western wheat in normal volume was due to failure of the railways to supply cars, the administrative sub-committee of the Canadian Railway Association has issued this statement:

"Referring to the statement made to the press by James Stewart, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board, respecting the movement of wheat to the head of the lakes; in arriving at his conclusion and in comparing this year's movement with the record one of 1915, Mr. Stewart has conveniently overlooked a number of important factors.

"First — That while the crop matured earlier than usual this year, threshing was delayed over a large portion of the West and marketing was unusually light until freeze-up came.

"Second—That winter struck the prairies at least a month earlier than usual, with the inevitable result that transportation was slowed up.

"Third—That as a result of the prolonged western coal strike the railways were called on to move more commercial coal during the present fall than in 1915, or any fall before or since.

"Fourth—That the railways had this fall been called on to provide transportation for a larger tonnage of lumber, fruit and general merchandise than ever before.

"Fifth—That the early advent of winter, coupled with a shortage of feed, threw on the railways the burden of handling, during the months of October and November, at least three times the number of head of livestock which would normally move at this period of the year.

"Sixth—That the railroads controlled by the American railroad administration had failed to return thousands of cars belonging to Canadian railways, which are now south of the line. After allowing for the American cars which are in Canada, the balance stands 22,421 cars in favor of the United States roads.

"Seventh—That in dealing in figures respecting the movement of wheat only Mr. Stewart overlooked the fact that the railways had been called on this year to handle a larger proportion of cars of grain than in former years."

Riots in Cairo

Eleven Killed When British Troops Fired on Besieging Crowd

Cairo.—Eleven natives were killed and sixty wounded by British troops who opened fire on a crowd which besieged the police station during the course of a demonstration.

Ten of the wounded are reported to be in a serious condition.

To Stop Allowance

London.—The House of Commons has voted in favor of stopping unemployment allowance.

New Contract Signed by Railwaymen

Is Practically the Same as Obtains on U.S. Roads

Winnipeg.—The general committees of the brotherhoods of railway trainmen and the order of railway conductors have signed a new agreement with the C.P.R., which carries an increase in wages for most of the men in train and yard service and makes a few changes in the rules governing working conditions of yard men, switch tenders now being included in the employees legislated for.

The contract signed is virtually the same as obtains on United States roads, but the greater portion of the increase in wages has been paid by the company since last summer, the men having had an interim agreement to that effect.

Von Hindenburg Explains

Says Defensive Strength of Germany Was Unfavorable From the Start

Berlin.—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg declared before the sub-committee of the national assembly investigating war responsibilities:

"I know with absolute certainty that neither the people, the kaiser, nor the government desired war, for the government 'knew better' than others Germany's tremendously difficult position in a war against the entente."

Germany's defensive strength, said the field marshal, was as unfavorable as possible from the start. It might be left to history to decide why Germany's peace policy had failed.

"If the military authorities prepared for the possibility of an unavoidable war," continued Von Hindenburg, "that was only their duty towards the nation. If there had been solid, united co-operation between the army and homeland, we could have attained victory.

"While with the enemy, notwithstanding his superiority, all parties were united everywhere firmly in the determination to be victorious, with us, although we were unmercifully inferior, interests at home made their influence felt and this state of affairs led to the breaking of the will to victory."

In all great decisions, Ludendorff and himself were of one mind, and had worked in full accord from August 29, 1916, to the end.

"We considered unrestricted submarine warfare imperative immediately we entered the supreme command," said the field marshal.

"When 1917 came we could not longer permit our gallant soldiers to be bombarded with American ammunition and their wives and children starved by the blockade. The U-boat war was the only means to oppose these conditions."

Great Britain Removes Whiskey Restrictions

Release of 115,000,000 Gallons Announced in House of Commons

London.—One hundred and fifteen million gallons of whiskey, besides other quantities of spirits in bond in Great Britain, were released from war-time restrictions, and may be distributed to all-comers who can persuade the dealers to sell.

The announcement of the removal of the restrictions, which was made without warning in the House of Commons by the Food Controller, came as a surprise to the members, who greeted it with loud cheers.

The liquor trade was equally surprised and was besieged by the well-to-do among the public as soon as the unexpected news spread. Many orders of from fifty to a hundred dozen were placed immediately, in addition to numerous commissions for smaller quantities. Although it is figured that enough spirits has been thus freed to supply every man, woman and child in the country with thirty-six bottles apiece, it is doubtful if the public will find it easy at present to increase consumption to a great extent. The government maintains control of the maximum price, which for whiskey is ten shillings and sixpence per bottle, and it is not believed that the dealers will sell much below that figure, as the existing high duty will remain.

Moreover, restrictions on distillation during the war and the necessity of maturing stocks may lead the dealers to hold large quantities. On the other hand, it will be possible to sell all the American whiskey which has reached and is still reaching England, though clearance from the customs may be slow.

Bolsheviki Active in Turkestan

London.—The British authorities have received disturbing reports of Bolshevik activities in Turkestan and Afghanistan. Tashkent, capital of the general government of Russian Turkestan, is the centre for classes of instruction, where Bolshevik emissaries are trained and taught various languages before undertaking missions farther east.

TORPEDOED!

Don't blast your Liver and Bowels, but take "Cascarets."

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach and colds.

Are you keeping your liver and bowels clean with Cascarets, or shocking your insides every few days with Calomel, Salts, Oil and violent pills?

Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Cascarets never gripe, sicken or cause inconvenience, and Cascarets cost so little, too.

Sinn Feins May Enter Parliament

Will Take Part in Discussion on Irish Government Bill

London.—There are strong rumors in the House of Commons lobbies that the Sinn Fein members are contemplating taking their seats at Westminster, coincident with the cabinet's coming announcement of the Irish government bill.

It is reported also that Countess Makievicz will appear at the same time, in order to forestall Lady Astor as the first member of parliament, if Lady Astor is elected.

Constitution Granted To Egypt and Malta

Quebec Will Discuss Prohibition

Only Two Important Measures Are Down for Hearing This Session

Quebec.—At the Quebec legislature, which opens December 10, only two really important measures are so far on the order book. The appropriation of five million dollars for colonization, and the revision of the code regarding legislation for large corporations.

It is expected, however, that there will be a debate and probably a proposed amendment on prohibition, but it is anticipated that the present regulation regarding the liquor tariff will remain in force at least a couple of years yet.

SUFFERING CATS! GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug is a sticky ether compound, but dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.

It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

Sir Henry Drayton Thanks Workers

Gratification at Success of the Victory Loan and Appreciation of Patriotic Service Rendered

Ottawa.—In a statement handed to the Canadian Press, Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, expressed his gratification at the success of the Victory Loan and his appreciation of the enthusiastic and patriotic service rendered by these workers in its behalf. He suggests that subscribers everywhere will help to confirm the credit of Canada by holding the bonds which they have purchased.

Attempt to Kill Admiral Kolchak

London.—An attempt to assassinate Admiral Kolchak, head of the All-Russian government, which until recently maintained its capital at Omsk, is reported in a wireless dispatch received here from Moscow. Hand grenades were thrown at Kolchak, six soldiers being killed and twelve wounded.

London.—A constitution for Egypt and local self-government for Malta, both of which are announced, are designed to meet the unrest in these countries, which have been demanding the application to themselves of the theories of self-determination and the rights of smaller nationalities.

The extreme Egyptian Nationalists have raised the banner of complete independence like the Sinn Fein, and Cairo messages say that the cabinet has resigned as an answer to Field Marshal Allenby's statement of the British plans.

One of the Egyptian complaints has been that Great Britain has published its intention to maintain a protectorate, but has kept the Egyptians in the dark regarding what is meant by a protectorate and how it is to be carried on.

Great Britain's action in preventing an Egyptian nationalist delegation from going to the Paris conference to present grievances has been another cause for complaint.

The government's justification for the charges of neglecting Egypt has been the enormous load of other matters on its hands.

The Milner commission which is to investigate the cause of unrest in Egypt has not yet started, and the natives threaten to boycott and refuse to give any information.

Malta was in a state of tumult for several weeks during the summer, but there were no casualties and little news of the movement there has reached England. Small attention has been paid to it on account of other overshadowing events.

Another sign of the times is that a group of Burmese, with the support of former British-Burman officials, have begun an agitation for including Burmah in the new measure of self-government which the Montagu scheme will give India.

Murder Charge Dismissed

Unwritten Law Played Prominent Part in the Defence

Saskatoon, Sask. — John Bronch, charged with the murder of Arnold Gart, a returned soldier, at Radisson, Sask., in October, was acquitted by a jury at Battleford. The unwritten law played an important part in the defence.

Bronch, it was charged, killed Gart with a knife in broad daylight, following an argument. T. A. Lynd defended the accused.

A GOOD TREATMENT IN CASE OF SMALLPOX

Medical Health Officer Says It Would Be All Right To Use

Mrs. Eliza G. Kemble, of 66 Trinity street, Toronto, writes as follows:

Having in my possession what I believe to be invaluable to the public, I would hereby send it forth as a winged messenger of joy to every household in the land. Several years since a correspondent of the Stockton (California) Herald gave the following concerning smallpox and its remedy. I give it as published:

I herewith append a recipe which has been used to my knowledge in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the smallpox through the pittings and filling. When Jenner discovered cow pox in England, the world of science hurled an avalanche of fame upon his head; but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this recipe and panacea for smallpox it passed unheeded. It is as unfailing as fate and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. Here is the recipe as I have used it and cured my children of scarlet fever and smallpox. When learned physicians said the patient must die, it cured.

The Recipe

Sulphate of zinc, 1 gr.; foxglove (digitalis), 1 gr.; ½ teaspoonful of sugar. Mix with two tablespoonfuls of water. When thoroughly mixed add four ounces of water.

Take a teaspoonful every hour. Either disease will disappear in 12 hours. For a child, smaller doses according to age.

For a preventive take a teaspoonful before each meal. Children less quantity, according to age.

If counties would compel physicians to use this there would be no need of pest houses. If you value advice and experience use this for that terrible disease.

The writer says she has given the above recipe as a preventive when smallpox was prevailing, and found it to correspond with the above statements; it is therefore conceded not only a cure, but a preventive. It is hoped the papers will keep this before the public. Let all friends prove themselves as such by telling their friends. May God's blessing attend the circulation of this valuable recipe and the use thereof, until the dreaded disease (smallpox) is swept from the land.

Toronto.
The Herald showed the above letter to Dr. Mahood and he agreed that it was a very proper treatment in smallpox cases.—Calgary Herald.

PLANTS POSSESS SENSES OF SIGHT, TOUCH AND TASTE

Plants possess at least three senses—sight, touch and taste. Though their manner of expressing their emotions is very modest, they are far from being inert. A very brief microscopic study of their life shows that they possess a sentient existence which, though less perfect than that of the higher animals, in some cases is equal to the sentient life of the polyps and sponges.

Sight is the best developed of the vegetable senses. By this sense the plant perceives the light, though it does not distinguish objects. The earth worm, the coral insect and the oyster enjoy about the same amount of sight; they have no localized visual organ, but they perceive the difference between light and darkness. When a ray of light reaches them they contract under the stimulus.

The influence of light is clearly shown by the plant kept in a room where there is only one window; the plant is so eager to get the light that it crosses its stems and turns its leaves broadside toward the window. This action has led students of plants to say that plants are "heliothropic." Physiologists say that the plant bends toward the light because the side in darkness grows faster than the other side. The simplest explanation is that the plant perceives the light and that it shows that it perceives it. The stem of the plant is perceptive; its sensitiveness of perception goes as far as its root, but the root shows its perception in a different way. If the stem is heliothropic the root is negatively heliothropic. The stem shows that it perceives the light by turning toward it, the root shows that it perceives the light by turning from it just as persons with weak eyes turn from the light and seek the shadow when the light is strong.

A sense equally well developed in plants is that of touch. The sensitive plant is the exemplary case; the slightest touch causes it to curl its leaves and eventually it droops them toward the ground. Naturalists have explained this action by saying that a touch influences the leaf that it drives the water to the depression in the stem and that the leaf immediately wilts for lack of internal moisture. Even if that is true, the plant is influenced by the contact of something outside of itself. When an animal is influenced in the same way the result is due to the animal's sense of touch.

The sense of taste is an endowment of plants of the lower orders, algae among others. When particles of different kinds are thrown in the water among the algae, the plants make a choice at once and cling to the objects they can assimilate, and if they are capable of perceiving the savor of their ailments and of choosing certain kinds out of a mass of different kinds, they may be said to be endowed with the sense of taste. Among the higher plants the sense of taste is less common and less easily distinguished, but in many cases it is undeniably present.

If an insect is set on the leaf of one of the drosera, the tentacles of the plant fall upon the morsel at once. If a non-nutritive substance is set in the same place, the plant gives no sign of recognition. The microscope shows that the tentacles quiver as if with delight when they close on an agreeable morsel and that the insect secretes a special sap at that moment which it does not secrete at any other time. At such times the insect is comparable to the gourmand whose mouth "waters."

Plants possess, then, the senses of sight, touch and taste. They have given no evidence of other senses, but some branches of the algae family have two microscopic organs with many granulations which move incessantly. The two organs are remarkably like the organs of hearing of mollusks, worms and other low forms of animal life. The creatures of the vegetable world have a remarkable sense of direction in space. If a root growing vertically is set in the earth horizontally it begins at once to turn the end of its root toward the centre of the earth.

AN IDEAL TONIC FOR WEAK PEOPLE

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Act Directly On the Blood and Nerves
 Food is as important to the sick person as medicine, more so in most cases. A badly chosen diet may retard recovery. In health the natural appetite is the best guide to follow; in sickness the appetite is often fickle and depraved.
 Proper food and a good tonic will keep most people in good health. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most popular tonic medicine in the world, harmless and certain in their action, which is to build up the blood and restore the vitality to the run-down system. For growing girls who become thin and pale, for pale, tired women, and for old people who fail in strength Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic. Thousands of people have testified to the health-giving qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in many homes they are the only medicine used. Among the homes in which the benefit of this medicine has been proved is that of Mr. E. A. Underwood, Kingston, Ont., who says: "I have used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with the most beneficial results. As the result of hard work I was very much run down, and my appetite was very poor. I got a supply of the pills which I used regularly for some weeks with the result that they restored me to my old time strength. They also proved a blessing to my daughter, who was in a very anæmic condition, and who seemed not to get more than temporary relief from any medicine until she took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She took the pills for about three months and is now enjoying the best of health. For these reasons I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."
 At the first sign that the blood is out of order take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and note the speedy improvement they make in the appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Making Humans Transparent

French Scientist Professes to Have Discovered a Fluid Which is Likely to Supersede X-Rays
 Moved to experiment by noticing that a drop of oil made paper transparent, a French scientist professes to have discovered a fluid which similarly renders the human body transparent, and is likely to supersede the X-rays. Indeed, the inventor claims that his fluid is superior to X-rays, in that it allows the pathologist greater liberty in handling, and at the same time shows not only the bone structure, but also the inner muscular and nervous systems. The degree of transparency produced by the action of the fluid can be regulated at the will of the operator. It is said that a board can be made as clear as glass, so that a newspaper can be read through it.

SHORT OF BREATH Could Hardly Walk Without Resting

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble, one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"
 Now, when the heart becomes affected, there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.
 On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.
 Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes: "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting, as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."
 Price 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Ideal Land For Mixed Farming

Land for Stock Raising May Be Obtained Under a Twenty-Year Lease

A number of prospective ranchers and stockmen of the southern states have made inspection trips to the vast territory of uncultivated land north of Battleford, Saskatchewan, within the last three weeks as a result of the arrangement recently made by the federal government, whereby land for stock raising and mixed farming may be obtained under a twenty year lease. Only such land as is unsuitable for agriculture and that lies beyond the range of settlement is subject to this twenty-year lease. Several ranchers now returning south have expressed their satisfaction with the prospects for stock raising.

W. H. Phillips, of Montana, who passed through Winnipeg, Man., on his return from a trip 100 miles north of Battleford through the Meadow Lake district, believes the land ideal for mixed farming.

Highland News

Mr. Fred Admussen was in Calgary on business this week.

Grandpa Rhoades is on the sick list again, but we hope he recovers soon as he is still on the trade for more horses.

The other day Dave Allen was tending his trap line when he heard a bellow like a bull moose had stepped into one of Martin's large coyote traps. At first he was too dumfounded to move, but after listening a moment he discovered that it was a large horn that two very well known deer hunters from near Elkton, were using. No doubt these hunters, not knowing, were expecting the moose and deer to come running to their destructive rifles; anyway we wish them luck.

Messrs. Kyle Oliver and M. Moon made a flying visit to McKnight's last week.

We expect to hear the welcome sound of the sawmill soon.

If anyone should lose a valuable dog, don't worry, as Martin and Dave have traps out, and even dogs can make mistakes these cold days.

Anyone wanting to buy or sell horses from 900 pounds to a ton weight, write Mr. George Rhoades, Bergen.

We saw a coyote track leading towards Waterstreet's trap line the other day. Do you think J. W. will get it?
